Sydney Adventist Hospital Map 36
San Education is a department of Sydney Adventist Hospital. The comprehensive education provided by this department has been designed to support both the needs of our hospital staff and members of the wider community. To enhance and support the work of this department the ‘San College of Education’ operates as a fully functioning ‘Registered Training Organisation’ (RTO) to provide nationally recognised training where applicable. San College of Education offers specific Training Packages, Qualifications, Courses or individual ‘Units of Competency’ within its scope. These particular courses are all listed within this calendar accompanied by their official course name and code as listed on www.training.gov.au

Courses, Workshops and Conferences
San Education offers a broad range of relevant courses, workshops and conferences to suit continuing professional development needs. Certificates and statements of attainment will be provided for your portfolios. One CPD point is awarded for health professionals for every hour of instruction.

RTO Courses
Participants who successfully complete a course will graduate with a nationally recognised qualification complying with the standards set by the VET Quality Framework. See appendix for RTO enrolment policy.

Which course should I attend?
All learning and development opportunities are offered to support your professional development, personal competence and confidence in the work place. Please discuss your individual needs with a San Education staff member, your Manager or Workplace Trainer/Educator.
National Registration for Health Practitioners
Sydney Adventist Hospital health practitioners are expected to take individual responsibility for all of the requirements associated with the national registration and accreditation scheme introduced 1 July 2010 by the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA). Courses meet the requirements associated with AHPRA’s expectations for continuous improvement in patient care and qualify for CPD points.

Enrolment
San Education accepts enrolments from any potential student. Some programs may have a limited number of vacancies and these will be filled in a chronological order upon completion of the appropriate enrolment form and full payment of any course fees (if applicable). The San College of Education RTO Enrolment Policy and Enrolment Form for all traineeships, workshops and courses, can be found on line.

Recognition of Prior Learning
For all RTO courses the San College of Education recognises skills and knowledge gained through work, educational and other life experience. Recognition for these skills and knowledge may be given towards courses currently offered. The full RTO policy for recognition of prior learning is found in the appendix at the back of this handbook.

Recognised Prior Learning Policy

The purpose of Recognised Prior Learning (RPL) is to help trainees or potential trainees to claim credit towards national competency standards that form part of the Certificate III or IV course they are undertaking.

San College of Education recognises that skills and knowledge are gained through work, educational, and life experience. Credit for these skills and knowledge may be given by San College of Education towards courses it currently offers.

Also, credit will be given to any applicant who has successfully completed modules or units of competency, which give equivalence into training programs offered by San College of Education, and which have been gained with another recognised training organisations, e.g. TAFE.

When completed, you will need to present the completed paperwork, as well as copies of your achievements to your trainer. You should keep a copy for your own records. You will be contacted by a representative of San College of Education to discuss your application for RPL. Remember to supply copies of any certificates or awards with your CV to support your application.

San College of Education will allow trainees or students 4 weeks from the date of receiving the RPL application and quick guide relevant to their certificate or course to submit the application to their trainer or assessor.

The relevant trainer and assessor will inform the trainee of the results of the RPL assessment process, and is also able to help the trainee determine any future options in relation to the outcome of the RPL application or assessment process.

If the RPL application and quick guide is not returned within this time, the trainee will be deemed to not want to apply for RPL. It will then be mandatory for them to attend any set training sessions or tutorials that form part of their chosen course.

San College of Education will provide reassessment on appeal to RPL applicants.

Continuing Professional Development Points

Continuing Professional Development statements, Inservice records and CPD point details can be obtained from Margaret Defries on Ext: 9227.

One CPD point is awarded for every hour of professional development.
