

Intensive Care Trainees

(Opportunity for Accredited and Unaccredited Registrar Positions)

New Positions Starting February 2021

Sydney Adventist Hospital (SAH), fondly known as 'the San', is a division of Adventist HealthCare - a Christian not-for-profit organisation. The San is NSW's largest private hospital with over 700 beds, employing over 2300 staff, 500 volunteers and 1000 accredited medical officers.

The hospital offers the latest services and facilities, including 23 operating theatres and endoscopy suites, 3 cardiac catheterisation laboratories, NSW's largest private 24x7 Emergency department, intensive care and coronary care units, renal dialysis unit, rehabilitation and sleep studies units, a leading multi-disciplinary Integrated Cancer Centre, and an extensive range of diagnostic, allied health and support services. Dedicated to being at the forefront of technology, the San has an advanced robotic surgery unit, state-of-the-art hybrid operating theatre, and the latest in surgical and diagnostic imaging.

The San has a unique commitment to health workforce education. Through partnerships with the University of Sydney Faculty of Medicine and Avondale University College Faculty of Nursing, the hospital is an education hub with a purpose built clinical school on site training medical, nursing and allied health students. Research facilities onsite include the Australasian Research Institute and the San Clinical Trials Unit.

Our Mission

Caring for the community since 1903, the hospital's reputation for exceptional care is built on the continuous provision of leading medical & surgical care, supported by the expertise, commitment and compassion of our people, and our faith-based approach to caring for the whole person – which is reflected in our Mission 'Christianity in Action – caring for the body, mind and spirit of our patients, colleagues, community and ourselves'.

The Intensive Care Unit at the Sydney Adventist Hospital (the San) provides an exciting opportunity to work in a new unit with first-class facilities and a great team of medical, nursing and allied health staff.

This unit is accredited for C6 training with the College of Intensive Care Medicine (CICM).

Trainees work alongside Senior ICU CMOs and Specialist Intensivists with strong links to Royal North Shore Hospital, and with opportunities to experience a diverse and interesting mix of cases, including surgical (incorporating neurosurgical, cardiothoracic and other specialties) and acute medical patients admitted through the onsite Emergency Department.

Accredited Registrar applicants must be at least 3 years post-graduation with at least 6 months' ICU experience; however unaccredited applicants will also be considered.

Salary and conditions are available on application.
